Dear Sally,

Last night we got a huge stack of mail and in it was yours. Letters mailed August 7th from Charlottesville. It was the first mail we've had in several weeks. We were in so many replacement depots in N. Africa, Italy & even France that I was surprised that our mail caught us this fast. This will be our permanent address so it should come much faster now. We also heard from Jimmy Mahon. At least we are assigned and have been pretty busy. Wendell told Jimmy just what we are doing. Jimmy could explain it to you better than I could in this letter. We're with a nice bunch of guys, they call me "Doc" and come up with all kinds of complaints for which I dish out aspirin for everything from headaches to sore feet. I wish that was all that could happen to them. We've had a lot of experiences no matter how serious they are when they happen we can always laugh when we get together and talk them over. We're getting a break right now, getting clean clothes, getting ourselves clean etc. I will close for now. Say, it was funny to hear you talking about your course at the U. of Va. Those were the same complaints we heard in school. I'm out of space so good-bye for now.

Love,
Wayne

P.S. I wasn't sure just where you'd be so am sending this in [illegible] of the school.
