Dear Miss Loving and Class,

I received your letter and was I glad to hear from you.

Well today is Sunday and we haven't been doing much work. It is the first day since we have been aboard that we haven't worked hard. Of course if you can find a corner to sleep in and you think the boss won't catch you can go to sleep, he catches me about every day than I have to do extra work or if you can find him a big line like I do most of the time you can even get out of that. As to what kind of work I just can't tell you that as all our mail is censored.

Well I guess I'll close as I said before all our mail is censored so all my letters will be short.

Your sailor friend,

Glendon

P.S. Don't forget and put your return address on all mail.
