

T.M. von Sprecken Jr.
309 N. Maple St
Somerset, Ky

Lancing
June 4
7 Am
1939
Tenn.

Miss Sally Loving
1610 Wilson Blvd.
Arlington, Va.

Oakdale, Tenn.
June 11, 1939

Dear Miss Loving,

I am sorry to inform you that I will not be able to get to the reunion this year either, but I do wish that you would tell them all 'Howdy' for me.

I have a job with the Railroad this summer, and I think it ~~would~~ will be better if I don't try to get off. I am going to Lansing Tenn. Tomorrow, but I don't have any idea how long I'll be there.

My folks have finally decided to reside at Somerset, Ky (at least until July 1), so I might be able to go "home" every once in a while.

How is everyone in Arlington? I haven't heard from anyone there for a long time - I guess it is because I don't write either. Living out here in the sticks, - I sort of lose contact with civilization, and Blacksburg isn't any better.

I guess that by this time you have talked to Bruce, or some of the others, and found out that I didn't do so well last year. However, as I have always said, there is still hope that the future will be better.

It is time for supper, so I'll have a stop now, but I'll write you some more later on and find out all about the reunion.

ted